Dear Friends

In his recent book 'Let Us Dream - The Path to a Better Future', Pope Francis reflects upon the world having a "better future" when it comes out of COVID. At the present time it is hard to see when this will truly be, for although in the UK a date has been given as the 21st June when restrictions will be lifted, there are other parts of the world that are still suffering badly from the pandemic, especially India, and experience has shown how quickly and easily the virus mutates. But as we celebrate Good Shepherd Sunday this weekend and also pray for vocations, it is interesting to reflect on what the Holy Father, our beloved shepherd, has to say in his book about a post COVID world.

'Let Us Dream' is an uplifting practical book in which the Holy Father, explains how the sacrifices and experiences of the COVID crisis should not be wasted but should be put to good use to make the world a safer, fairer and healthier place for all people. He says that what the pandemic has exposed more vividly than ever before is the cruelty and inequalities in society juxtaposed with the resilience, generosity and creativity of people which he saw as the means to rescue and save society, and our planet that has been greatly plundered.

The Pope encourages politicians to come away from ideologies and the obsession for profit and wealth and take bold steps to serve people and the environment in a much fairer and inclusive way, especially the poor and marginalised, and he reminds Christians that this is their vocational duty too.

The Pope urges that we should not let the pain endured by the crisis be in vain, and that we should explore and learn from what the crisis has taught us and how it would be a grievous error to return to some pre-crisis state. We must have the courage to change so that we can be better than before.

As our parish looks forward to returning to some form of normality, let us pray to the Lord our Good Shepherd for guidance and the courage to not allow the scars of the past year to keep us any longer away from the blessings that being part of our faith community can bring.

With every blessing, Deacon Eugene

First Holy Communion and Confirmation. Everything is different this year. For those wishing to embark on the journey of faith through FHC and Confirmation should make attendance at mass, when we are allowed, a priority which reveals a true desire to follow the Lord.

Financial matters: we can now make donations, either one-off or regular giving, using the diocesan website and the funds would then be transferred direct to the parish. This is quicker than setting up payments through the bank and the donations can be gift-aided as well.

10-16th May is Marriage week, a time for us to celebrate the joy and blessings of marriage. Pope Francis tells us that "Marriage is like a plant. A plant is alive, and it needs to be cared for every day: to see how it is doing, to give it water, and so it goes. Marriage is a living reality: the life of a couple should never be taken for granted, in any phase of a family's journey." Pope Francis, 21st December 2015

Why not take some time this week to really find some time to talk to your spouse and nurture your marriage?
